The Arm River Track is the shortest track to Pelion Hut on the Overland Track. It is also used to visit Mt Pillinger, Mt Oakleigh, Mt Ossa and February Plains. The walk can be done as a long day walk direct to Pelion Hut during the longer summer days, or as an overnight trip, which allows exploration of the surrounding peaks. The hut is large and sleeps 60 people, although it is always a good idea to come prepared with a tent.

Located both in the Arm River Forest Reserve and the Cradle Mountain - Lake St Clair National Park, the track is wet and muddy in places, with some duckboards on the plateau. It is 11km long (one way), with a 290m height difference. At the beginning of the track you must navigate a creek and sturdy walking shoes are a must here. The track takes you through lush rainforest before zig-zagging steeply beneath eucalypts to Lake Price (1.5 hours). It is from here you are rewarded with stunning views over the lake to Mt Pillinger.

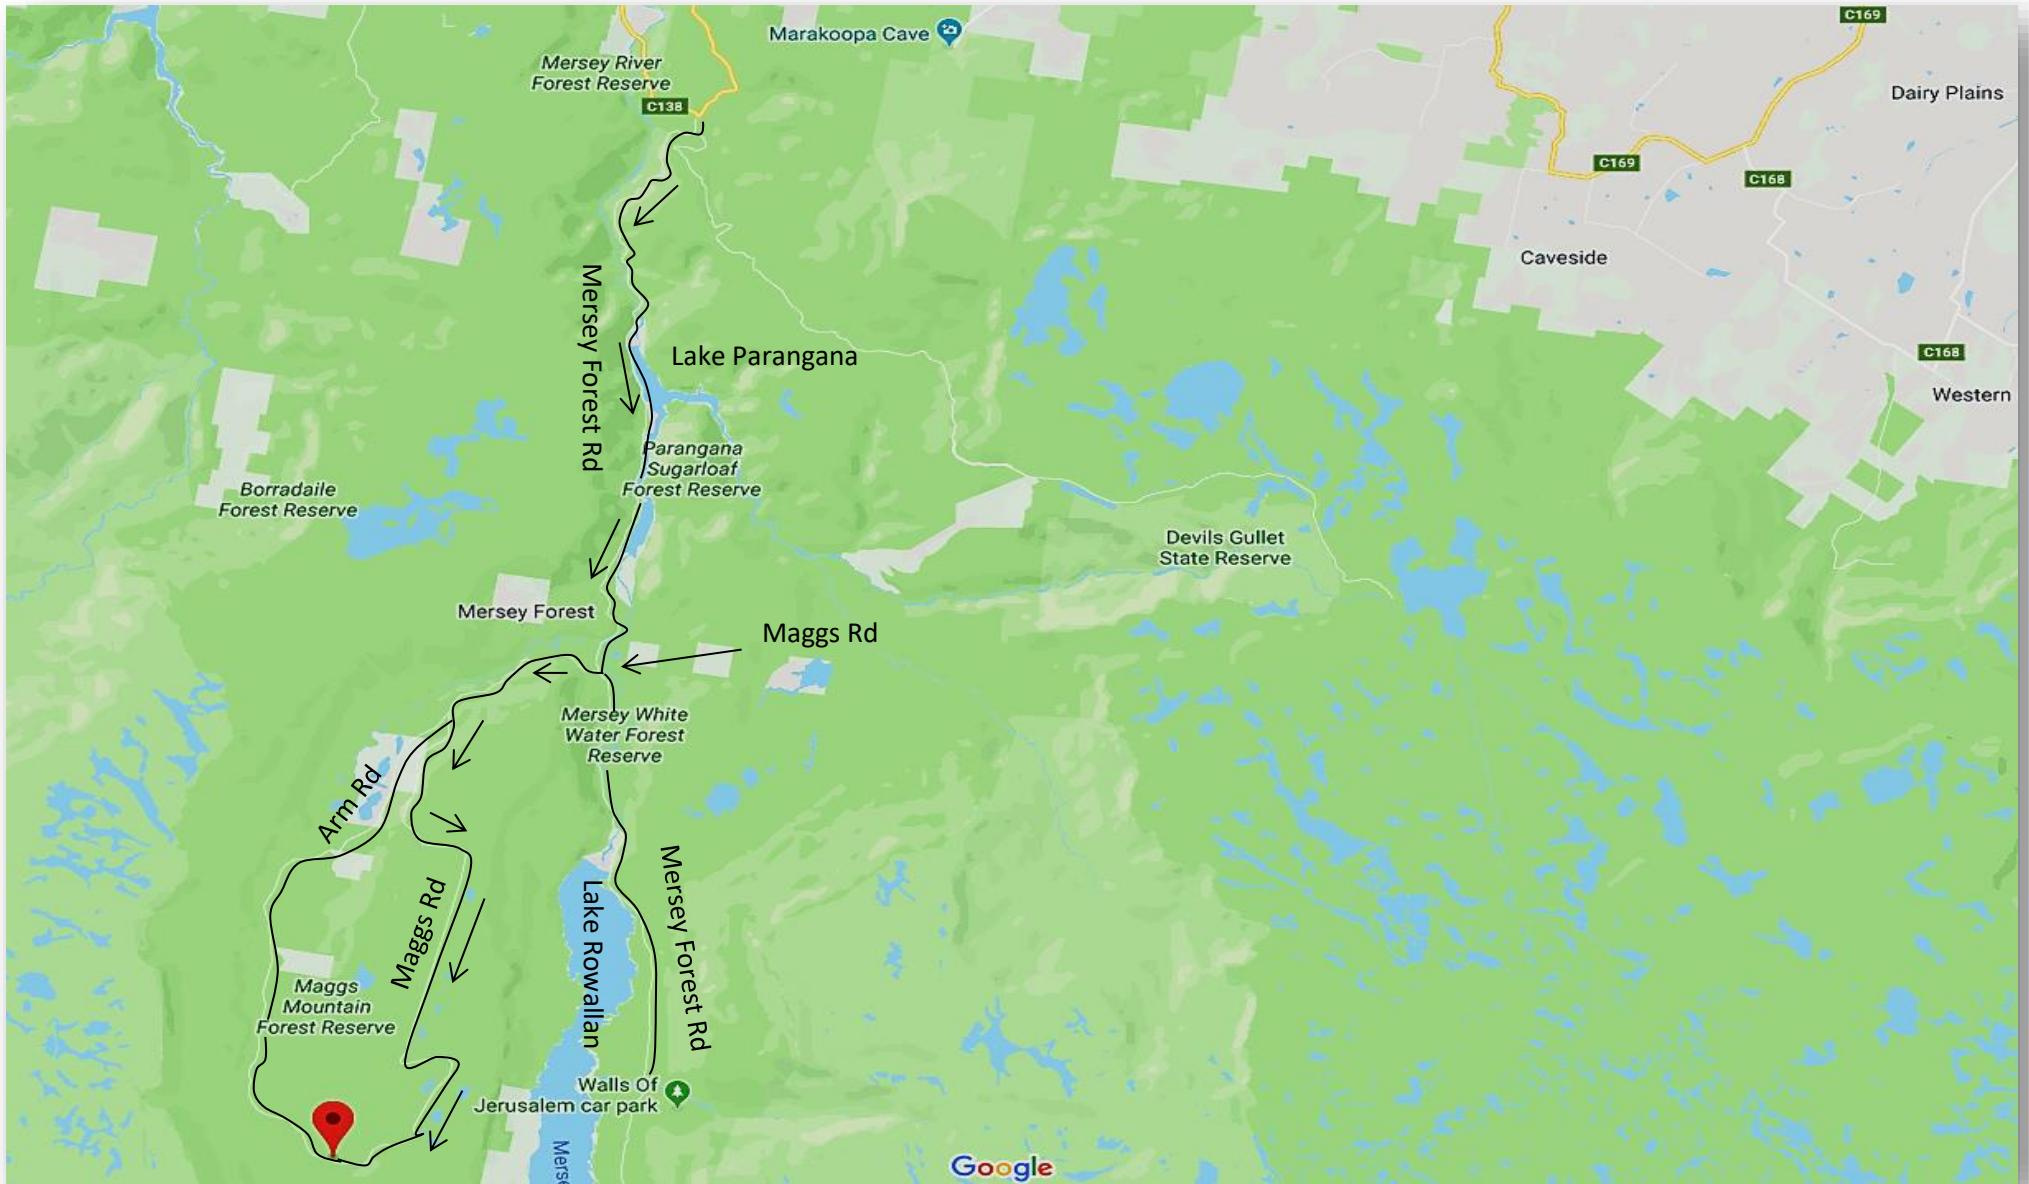

Shortly after the lake, the track passes through ancient moss-covered rainforest before crossing Wurragarra Creek via a narrow steel bridge. Further along, the track slowly descends toward Lake Ayr and Douglas Creek, before reaching its final destination, New Pelion Hut.

SAFE WALKING: Plan, be prepared, walk with friends, tell someone where you are going. Consider hiring an EPIRB from Service Tasmania (Launceston & Devonport) to prepare for emergency events. Make a personal determination as to your fitness and ability to undertake specific walks.

LEAVE NO TRACE: walk on formed tracks, observe all restrictions, dispose of waste properly and leave what you find.
